CAROLINE FENNER

hello.

I'm Caroline - a strategically minded Art Director and Designer. With over 7 years' experience, my passion is in creating and building brands through authentic design. I've been lucky enough to work with a wide range of clients from small startups, nonprofits, established luxury automotive brands, and all the way to Detroit's leading cultural icon, the Detroit Institute of Arts.

I have a strong passion for research which gives me a deep awareness of what is trending, coming back, and around the corner in the art world. Interests include attending music festivals, reading, and traveling.
