Caroline Fenner

.. /about caroline fenner

I'm Caroline - a strategically minded Art Director, Designer, and Photographer. With over 8 years' experience my passion is in creating and building brands through authentic design. I've been lucky enough to work with a wide range of clients from small startups, nonprofits, established luxury automotive brands, and all the way to Detroit's leading cultural icon, the Detroit Institute of Arts. I have a strong passion for research which gives me a deep awareness of what is trending, coming back, and around the corner in the art world. You'll likely find me dancing at a local electronic show or brainstorming my next photoshoot.

tl;dr

I've worn a ton of hats across different industries, love breaking rules to push brands to the next level, and I'm obsessed with research, design, and telling stories about the world around us--basically, I'm a creative powerhouse.

Black Is Beautiful and The New Black Vanguard

Detroit Institute of Arts
Role: Lead Graphic Designer

Details

Black Is Beautiful: The Photography of Kwame Brathwaite and The New Black Vanguard were two traveling photography exhibitions by Aperture on view in consecutive order.

The usual creative collateral suite was created to support the exhibitions, but it was imperative to distinguish the storyline between the two exhibitions. Black Is Beautiful celebrated African American beauty and independence. The New Black Vanguard celebrated young, black photographers who are pushing the boundaries of black beauty.

results

- › 17% of visitors were African American which is one of the highest numbers for a photography exhibition.
- › Successful Marketing strategy between the two exhibitions. The NBV led to high-profile reposts on Instagram.
- › The first internal collaboration project to create an exhibition trailer which improved and streamlined video production processes.
- › Positive reception for both exhibitions online and in-person.

Asian Pacific American Heritage Month (APAHM)

Detroit Institute of Arts

Role: Marketing Project Manager (temp) and Lead Graphic Designer

Details

The Detroit Institute of Arts Programming department asked for a flyer to promote their APAHM events.

This occurred during the hate against Asian communities in 2021. In light of this, I chose to deliver a full Branding Identity Package. The branding expanded into social media graphics and ads to promote the events. In 2022, I led the Marketing project for APAHM. With the new branding, this led to expanded signage and digital materials to support to program.

results

- › A recognizable branding identity to support all APAHM digital events occurring during the COVID-19 pandemic shutdown in 2021.
- › Increased attendance to events online and in-person for 2021 and 2022.
- › Increased engagement and impressions on social media.
- › Program events were shared with the City of Detroit's social media channels.
- › Improved internal collaboration and production processes.

Volkswagen Group of America

seeds Marketing+Design

Role: Senior Art Director and Creative Strategist

Details

The challenge was to create a stellar RFP for Volkswagen Group of America of video content to educate VW car owners on how to use the features in their cars. The goal was to produce and deliver videos to show our agency's proof of concept.

Utilizing my research on recent studies and work groups on the best practices for how people learn from an educational video, we were able to use these found practices within our video production.

results

- › 4-5 final video cuts of key "How To" topics within the proposed improvement of the myVW app.
- › RFP presented the video content within the context an improved mobile app.
- › Improved internal video production processes within a timely deadline.

Activity and Engagement

Commenting, replying, liking, following, retweeting, direct messaging — everything on social media that's posting is still a valuable opportunity to demonstrate our brand values and build credibility with our audience.

Engaging directly with our audience shows we are listening to their concerns, and that we care. It implies transparency, and builds trust. And on some platforms, if we use the right keywords, we can ensure the brand features more prominently on timelines and search results.

Participating

- Observe trending hashtags and participate when relevant to the brand.
- Identify and engage influencers leading conversations (e.g., trade publications, journalists, subject matter experts).
- Liking posts is a good way to demonstrate progressive bona fides without participating in politically charged conversations.

Housekeeping

- Create an email address exclusively for social media accounts (e.g., social@evrdrive.com).
- Use a distinct password for each social media platform to protect each account in the event one is compromised.
- Reserve evrdrive as a username on all social media channels, even if there are no plans to use them.

Do's and Don'ts

TikTok is a great place for evrdrive to meet new customers — particularly younger drivers. The brand's #1 objective is to appear on users' personalized For You page.

The same Voice & Personality rules apply on TikTok, but here are a few additional rules of thumb to help evrdrive succeed on the platform:

Refer to page 4 of evrdrive Brand Identity Guidelines for Voice & Personality.

DO

Create relatable content.
TikTok is a great platform to show the brand's human side. Creating off-the-cuff videos and giving users a look behind the scenes at evrdrive are great ways to make the brand more relatable.

DO

Post frequency.
Keeping a consistent schedule for posting new content is important — many brands post new videos daily! TikTok is a fast-paced platform so it's good to post as often as possible while maintaining quality.

DO

Keep it short.
Though it's possible to post videos up to 10 minutes long, TikTok is more geared for shorter attention spans. So as a general rule: the shorter our posts, the better.

DO

Use trending sounds.
Sound is an essential part of the TikTok experience. Like hashtags, users can look through sounds and music from trends to organically discover similar content.

Additional Recommendations TikTok

Videos should not exceed more than 30 seconds.

Participants in the TikTok trends.

Participate in local Texas or Houston trends.

Before you post, ask yourself: Is this a good IDEA?

Refer to page 23 of evrdrive Brand Identity Guidelines for IDEA.

Additional Recommendations Instagram

Launch Instagram Highlights with links that redirect user to the website or a specific webpage. Add a live Story to a curated Highlight.

2. FAQ: evrdrive.com/faq
